

Advanced Financial Planning syllabus

Examinable from March 2026

© Chartered Institute for Securities & Investment

The syllabus is valid for examinations from March 2026.

AIMS AND OBJECTIVES

The aim of this examination is to ensure that candidates can demonstrate understanding of the principles of financial planning and are able to analyse and apply financial planning techniques to realistic, practical, examples.

The unit builds on the knowledge gain from holding an RDR-compliant qualification for FCA Activities 4 and 6. It enables candidates to illustrate competence in all aspects of the financial planning process and to evidence a firm level of critical appraisal in relation to:

- The financial planning process
- Existing provisions for realising objectives
- Retirement and estate planning
- Risk management
- Financial and budgetary management
- Creating a financial plan

Students should ensure that they are up to date in their knowledge and that they understand topical issues.

ASSESSMENT STRUCTURE

This is a three-hour examination of 100 marks, comprising three sections:

SECTION A: 40% of the marks. This section seeks to establish the factual knowledge and basic ability of the student. It may contain elementary calculations. It is composed of a number of compulsory short-answer questions, covering the whole syllabus.

SECTION B: 20% of the marks. This section seeks to establish the ability of the student to comprehend and apply the syllabus studied. It may contain more advanced calculations and an analysis of financial information. It is composed of one or more compulsory questions.

SECTION C: 40% of the marks.

One compulsory structured question comprising a number of parts, based on a case study designed to test students' ability to demonstrate critical analysis across the depth and breadth of the syllabus material. Candidates must clearly discern between an array of information in order to offer optimal client solutions evidencing both analytical and presentational capability and the ability to prioritise elements of the financial planning process.

CANDIDATE UPDATE

Candidates are reminded to check cisi.org/candidateupdate regularly for updates about industry changes that could affect their examinations.
